SUMMARY

UX writer and content designer experienced in designing products from concept to launch, writing product requirement documents and handover documentation for engineering teams, and simplifying complex systems into clear, usable language. Background spans product design, instructional documentation, and communications — with research training in how people actually read and act on written guidance.

SKILLS

Tools: Figma, Notion, Miro, Canvas LMS

Documentation: UX Copy, Product Requirement Documents (PRDs), Handover Documentation, Style Guides, Instructional Materials & Syllabi

Core Competencies: UX Writing, Content Design, Product Design, Content Strategy, Instructional Design, Communications

EXPERIENCE

Instructor of Record | University of Florida, English Department

Aug 2024 – Present

- Design and maintain Canvas course documentation — syllabi, assignment instructions, and rubrics — for ENC 1136 (Multimodal Writing and Digital Literacy), written so first-time students can act on it without additional support.
- Received the Teaching Excellence Award (2026), English Department, University of Florida, for clarity of instruction and course communication.
- Taught ENC 1102 (Argument and Persuasion), guiding students in writing for varied academic audiences and purposes.

UX Designer & Writer | Mainstack

Mar 2023 – Aug 2024

- Designed two products from concept to launch — a scheduling tool and a course-hosting platform — authoring the product requirement documents and handover documentation used by engineering to build and QA each feature.
- Redesigned a creator storefront template system around distinct user personas and wrote the accompanying UX copy, reducing blank-page friction for new creators.
- Simplified UX copy for an installment-payment feature, translating financial terminology into plain, trustworthy language across the checkout flow.
- Contributed to a creator platform supporting users across 145+ countries and 135+ currencies.

Communications & Digital Media Support | ATTW

Jan 2026 – Present

- Manage the official website and social channels, ensuring timely dissemination of announcements and organizational information to members and conference attendees.
- Designed promotional materials and coordinated digital outreach for the 2026 ATTW Conference, increasing visibility for calls for proposals and registration.

Fellow | Digital Rhetoric Collaborative, University of Michigan

Aug 2024 – Aug 2025

- Conducted research and interviews documenting the career transitions of technical communication and UX scholars from academia to industry, published via the DRC blog.

Graduate Assistant | Linguistics Department, University of Ibadan

Feb 2021 – Apr 2023

- Conducted sociolinguistic research on persuasive strategies in digital advertising; assisted undergraduate instruction, assignment collection, and grading.

Communications Lead | Placements

Dec 2020 – Mar 2022

- Planned and executed communications and media strategy across online and social channels; wrote website copy that improved user experience.
